Litter Control Systems

DRAINAGE OUTLET NETS

Quin Nets can make and fit drainage outlet nets to suit your requirements.

Our designs are reducing the cost of maintenance because we are constantly improving the nets as they come back for service.

Designed to catch rubbish before it reaches waterways, these nets are an ideal way of collecting rubbish at periodic intervals.

Used extensively in water catchment areas by councils these net systems are an environmentally safe way to greatly reduce build up of harmful rubbish.

Made from high quality ultra violet protected heavy duty twines, These nets will withstand being left in water, they will not rot and the net is specifically made for long life in this harsh environment.

Quin Nets also offer a complete repair service for existing nets with fast turnaround of nets back to the catchment areas.

LANDFILL LITTER NETS

Quin Sports have supplied landfill and portable litter nets throughout Australia.

These nets have been custom made to the customers requirements and move around on masts to give a wide range of mobility to fill. The nets pictured below are designed to allow 3 semis to empty their loads at one time. The size is 40m long x 14m height x 30m wide.

These particular nets are compliant with EPA guidelines.

Quin Sports can make any size nets you require and work closely with councils and private enterprise where netting is required for:

- Safety Netting
- Anti Bird netting
- Debris netting
- Sports netting of all types.

Quin Sports and Nets design, manufacture, install and repair Litter Control Systems.

The light-weight polyethylene or nylon netting, heavy duty galvanised sockets and posts are a fully moveable and practical way to prevent litter distribution from waste sites.

A roof net can be added to make the system fully enclosed.

Already proving popular with councils worldwide, this cost effective system has many advantages.

Time saving – Reusable – Easy to re-site – Simple and Easy to handle.

The moveable ground sockets allow the quick erection of posts and nets.

Tailored to any site size – Effective Blown-Litter Control.

The manufacture of the nets at our factory in Adelaide means we can manufacture complete kits to your exact specifications and to match your site requirements.

Sympathetic to the Environment – Very cost effective.

Due to the swift installation of the portable Litter Control System, fewer man-hours are wasted in cleaning litter outside the site area and in preventing litter distribution. This results in lower costs for the operator.

Tradition with Innovation

Quin Sports opened its doors in 1961 and was started by Hugh Quin. It supplied clubs, schools and sportsmen with a wide range of equipment. During the first few decades of the company's history, it focused on supplying domestic and foreign coast fishing fleets and ocean going fishing vessels with fishing nets and ropes of all kinds. We also operated Quin Canvas Goods, winning Government and Army tenders for covers and tents. The development of sporting equipment for gymnasiums, sports complexes and stadiums has steadily increased with improvement in the venues and focus on individual's performances and their equipment.

State of the Art Manufacturing Techniques

Quin Sports are the suppliers of the worlds most advanced netting from knot-less to knotted. All nets are made from the highest UV rating for protection in the Australian climate. Assembly techniques have been gained from experience in the deep sea fishing industry. We invest in the latest machinery to maintain a high quality product at competitive prices.

Professional Installation

Quin's maintain a professional team of experts with many years of installation experience. We provide this service world wide and have worked as far as USA, Mexico, Singapore and United Arab Emirates.

Maintenance

Quin Sports and Nets understand the need for our equipment to last as long as possible. We run an in-house maintenance service on all equipment we sell, the advantage of this being many more years of usage as we can repair worn or damaged equipment before the cost of repair outweighs the cost of replacement.

Services

Planning – Quin's staff offer a free planning service to work closely with customers, architects and builders in the planning process to overcome design concerns and tailor our equipment to suit any application.
